RE: RECOMMENDATION OF APPROVAL OF VENDOR

As the County's RNG Plant transitions into an Operations Mode, the facility will generate special and potentially hazardous wastes on an ongoing basis. An example of these wastes include, but may not be limited to used oil, oily water, used filter media, used drying agent media, oily used rags and/or spill clean-up debris. The volumes of waste to be generated and the results of waste determinations can only be estimated or assumed at this point due this being a new facility with minimal waste generation history. All of these wastes will need to be managed and transported properly in strict accordance with rules, regulations, and facility permits. Due to these unknowns and the specialized nature of this work, the County was unsure whether a response to the RFP would be received. Several previous RFP's for different services related to this facility received no proposal responses, which then required emergency procurement actions secure a vendor. Fortunately, a proposal was received from Clean Harbors Environmental Services, Inc. to conduct these services. Previously, Clean Harbors Environmental Services, Inc. performed well for the County by providing hazardous waste management and disposal services for the County's Household Hazardous Waste Program. Therefore, Clean Harbors Environmental Services has a positive service record with the County. Payment of these services will be expended from a Renewable Natural Gas (RNG) Facility fund expense account.
